This exam covers topics specific to Alvaria CXP when deployed within a hosted environment. This is a supplementary exam for individuals seeking an Alvaria CXP Certified Hosted Expert designation and requires all test participants to have previously taken and passed the Alvaria CXP Certified Developer Professional exam. The Hosted Expert certification exam does not cover topics pertaining to application development, but rather it tests knowledge of CXP cloud architecture, usage of the Evolution portal, and the various differences between hosted and premise deployment environments.
